Dear Sister Paynter,

As of today, I am sending you, under separate cover, several copies of industrial software and payroll and payroll contracts. You can look these over and facilitate yourself with them for our use in the industrial software. These are old agreements and I will try to secure a newer one which may remedy these preferable clauses. In this type of operation, where other profits are involved, a counsel is often formed and the agreements are negotiated together with other crafts (see new Chemical agreement).

Sincerely yours,

Dear Sister Heynich:

I have been called to your attention that Department Heads supervising the work done by our (paid) members at the St. James Hospital in your city have been either misinterpreting the contract or deliberately misinterpreting it.

I am told that the work loads are far too heavy. Due to the insurmountable conditions, there is a great turnover of help and employees (absentees caused by a terminated employee) able to the exhaust and to bring all that necessary load upon our members.

It is my suggestion to you and Sister, President and President branch secretary to call upon the Sister Superior and maybe lay the tremendous work of these conditions out to her to see that the real business is not diverted to the work in the housekeeping department where work loads are lightened to conform with a true eight hour day, so that sufficient people be employed to fulfill the impossible work schedules now in effect.

Perhaps, Sister Superior is unaware of the conditions and I inspire that she will accept our suggestions: investigate the unbearable conditions and take essential action through information to the supervisor of the housekeeping department.

Yours truly,
